

Distant Shores

Voyages to the Asian Pacific and Oceania

2024 VOYAGES | EXPEDITIONS.COM

AUSTRALIA | NEW ZEALAND | INDONESIA | JAPAN | THAILAND | SINGAPORE

FINAL OPPORTUNITY TO EXPERIENCE THESE INCREDIBLE DESTINATIONS

A tall, jagged rock formation with sparse vegetation on top, overlooking a rocky coastline with blue water. The rock is grey and has some green plants growing on it. The sky is blue with some clouds. The water is blue and there are rocks in the foreground.

The Asian Pacific and Oceania are scattered with gem-like isles that spark the spirit of adventure. An expedition ship is the only way to explore the most far-flung corners of the region, where roads are scarce, wilderness reigns, and remote cultures like the Asmat and Māori celebrate age-old customs. In 2024, take your final chance to discover these distant shores with Lindblad Expeditions-National Geographic and unlock exclusive experiences aboard our small, purpose-built vessels, before they sail on to new horizons.

Experience the World From a New Perspective

Lindblad Expeditions and National Geographic are united in a shared mission to take curious travelers deeper into wild and storied places that paint a richer picture of our world. Together, we craft itineraries that inspire and transform, pushing the boundaries of discovery to offer wholly unique experiences led by the foremost experts on your destination.

Purpose-Built Expedition Ships

The gracious National Geographic Orion and the state-of-the-art National Geographic Resolution sail to remote parts of Oceania and the Asian Pacific that larger ships cannot reach—like tiny Indonesian islets and the Kimberley coast of Australia. These nimble expedition vessels are intimately scaled and luxuriously appointed for maximum comfort, but purpose-built to safely navigate vast expanses of ocean.

Explore with a Veteran Team

Our expedition team is devoted to ensuring you have unforgettable experiences: naturalists to help you spot penguins and red birds of paradise, historians to give context to samurai castles, cultural experts who interpret village dancers. Many are veteran guides based in the destinations we travel to and have worked with us for decades.

Take Great Photos with the Pros

with Lindblad Expeditions-National Geographic

Actively Explore Every Day

Our itineraries feature a range of activities designed to immerse you in these spectacular environments.

Whether you choose to sail the scenic fjords of New Zealand, search for orangutans in the Sumatran rainforest, or snorkel the vibrant underwater world of Raja Ampat, you will be able to explore your way, every day. On select National Geographic Orion voyages, pre-qualified guests also have the option to scuba dive.

Exclusive Undersea Program

As part of our exclusive program, an undersea specialist uses a high-definition video camera and deploys a remotely operated vehicle (ROV) that allows us to peer up to 1,000 feet beneath the water's surface.

Footage is shared during daily recaps, inviting all guests to witness the colorful fish and sunken coral gardens that thrive in the world beneath the waves.

ALL IN: Activities and excursions are always included in the voyage price.

Discover a Rich Tapestry of Cultures

Far from the glittering skylines of their modern cities, Asia and Oceania's ancient traditions are celebrated amid timeless treasures like the tea houses of Japan, colorful Malaysian trading ports, and Bali's emerald rice paddies. Journey to secluded villages and sacred landmarks where age-old customs hold strong, and learn about their importance from the people dedicated to preserving them for future generations.

Life on Board: At Home on the High Seas

National Geographic Orion and National Geographic Resolution are destinations in their own right, featuring exceptional amenities and cultural experiences to ensure that your time on board is equally rewarding as your time on shore. Every aspect of your experience aboard our fleet is an opportunity to connect with and celebrate the places you explore.

Savor the Flavors of Your Destination

Sampling local cuisine is a highlight of any voyage, and we take great care to bring the flavors of your destinations to the meals you enjoy on board. Our executive chefs design unique and innovative menus that prominently feature sustainably sourced dishes from the regions you visit, as well as wine pairings and guided tastings to enhance your culinary experience. Special onshore excursions, like a visit to a tropical spice garden in Malaysia and a guided exploration of Balinese rice terraces, invite guests to forge even deeper connections with local culinary traditions.

Suite Exclusives

The suites aboard National Geographic Orion and National Geographic Resolution are your elegant retreat at sea, featuring spacious living areas and incredible ocean views. Now, booking one of these beautifully appointed accommodations comes with even more benefits. Our new Suite Exclusives package gives guests staying in eligible cabins access to an array of amenities designed to enhance your onboard experience, including priority booking for spa treatments, an in-room espresso maker, complimentary laundry, and other exclusive perks.

Our Health and Wellness Program

Greet the day with a sunrise stretch session or unwind in the spa with a massage while taking in a beautiful azure backdrop. In our dedicated wellness spaces—treatment rooms, saunas, fitness centers, and more—treatments are tailored to your individual needs, and each of our fully accredited wellness specialists is also a licensed massage therapist. A full-time medical professional travels on board and is on call 24 hours a day.

Wildlife Above and Beneath the Waves

The wild allure of Asia and Oceania extends beyond the region's biodiverse jungles and beaches, into turquoise waters where denizens of the deep rule a fascinating marine realm. From the acrobatic orangutans that swing through Sumatran jungles to the gentle sea turtles that glide amid kaleidoscopic corals, mesmerizing creatures await, whether you wish to explore on land or in the water.

Set Out on a Penguin Safari

Delight in the chance to spot eight of the world's 18 penguin species, four of which are only found in New Zealand and the Subantarctic islands. (See pg. 17.)

See Komodo Dragons in the Wild

It's a thrill to encounter the world's largest lizards in their Indonesian island home of Komodo National Park—the only place to see Komodos in their natural habitat. (See pgs. 19, 24, and 25.)

Spot Enchanting Creatures in an Ancient Japanese Forest

Yakushima Island's mossy forests are reminiscent of a wilder, primeval Japan—and a hike here offers the chance to spot endemic sika deer and red-faced macaques peering through thousand-year-old branches. (See pg. 26.)

Commune with Sacred Red-Crowned Cranes

In the wetlands of Kushiro Shitsugen National Park, find Japan's only breeding population of red-crowned cranes—a once near-extinct species that stands five feet tall and is considered sacred by the local Ainu people. (See pg. 27.)

Encounter Crocodiles in the Kimberley

On a scenic stretch of Australian coastline, board Zodiacs and glide into the Hunter River's thick tangle of mangrove forests, on the lookout for the region's prehistoric apex predator: the crocodile. (See pg. 19.)

Meet the Orangutans of Sumatra

These endangered primates have many human characteristics—and they will capture your heart when we have the rare opportunity to search for them in their natural environment at the UNESCO World Heritage site of Gunung Leuser National Park. (See pg. 22.)

Dive into the Coral Triangle

At the heart of this epicenter of sea life, Raja Ampat's reef system is carpeted in a tapestry of corals that harbors 1,500 types of fish, five of the world's seven sea turtle species, and seven kinds of giant clams. (See pg. 24.)

The Heartland of Adventure:

Peter Hillary on New Zealand and the Subantarctic Islands

Since boyhood, New Zealander Peter Hillary has traveled his country and the world—first with his father, the renowned explorer Sir Edmund Hillary, and then as a mountaineer in his own right. These days, Hillary adds ‘guest speaker’ to his repertoire, sharing his knowledge of the natural world with our travelers. Here, Hillary gives his hometown perspective on what makes New Zealand an exceptional place to visit, and why the Subantarctic islands are where “the real adventure begins!”

Do you remember your earliest experiences on the water?

They were on sailing boats, at home in New Zealand. My father would organize yacht expeditions, and we'd bring the boat right up to the edge of a rock pinnacle and make ascents straight from the boat. I quickly realized it's an incredible way to visit remote destinations.

What is the advantage of exploring New Zealand by sea?

Of course there is the comfort of being settled in your cabin for the duration, but the most important aspect is getting to see places that are difficult or impossible to reach by land or air. This is certainly the case with the Subantarctic islands—you visit little islands where people once lived, but have long since gone. These magical spots have truly been left to the wildlife, and the only way to see them is by ship.

What do you love most about your country?

I grew up in Auckland, the largest city in the north.

We have beautiful landscapes and spectacular wildlife, but I love getting out there—even to explore other parts of my own country—and I think that's a very New Zealand thing.

In southern New Zealand, we have the impressive snow-capped peaks of the Southern Alps, and fiord lands much like Norway's, with flooded valleys reaching into vertical mountains—it's stunningly beautiful. On the Subantarctic islands, you have beaches crowded with elephant seals and albatrosses, and great rafts of petrels out on the sea.

Why is it important to raise awareness of this part of the world?

The Subantarctic islands are an extraordinary window into what mainland New Zealand was like before humans arrived. It's a reminder of the impact that humanity has on the natural world, and that we need to preserve these wild, untamed places.
